A review of the Ames Police Department's records found no violations for El Azteca, Okoboji Grill, Flame-N-Skewer, Chica Shack, Iowa's Wine Cellar, Deano's, SMG – CY Stephens, SMG – Scheman, or SMG – Fisher during the past twelve months. The police department would recommend renewal.

Olde Main Brewing Company had the following violations for the past year: one cited for possession of a fake ID, one cited for on premises and fake ID, and one cited for on premises. These violations have been reviewed by management and they have been cooperative with our department in getting minors off the premises when food sales stop. The last violation occurred on April 7, 2010.

Records showed that there were three on premises violations at Es Tas during the past twelve months. In one instance, the person was in possession of a fake ID, but was not cited for the violations. The last violation occurred on April 29, 2010.

The police department is continuing to monitor compliance at Olde Main and Es Tas. I would recommend approval of both of these renewals.
