As the number of rental units in North Franklin Avenue has increased, so the number of cars that have packed both sides of street. The excess of parked vehicles on both sides of this narrow road in combination with the high traffic, often causes difficulty for cars driving in opposite directions to pass safely. This situation during the operation of utility and heavy trucks makes it impossible for other vehicles to pass by. The condition gets much worse when it snowing and the snow trucks are unable to operate properly. It also causes the piled up snow to narrow the street even more.
